Evaluations

Comprehensive Evaluation

The first step in the treatment of reading difficulties is appropriate identification. We comprehensively examine current literacy and attentional skills by measuring reading, spelling, attention, hearing, intelligence, and social-emotional behavior. We provide results, a summary, and recommendations in a report format, which can be used to inform appropriate interventions.

Reevaluation

Reading skills of individuals receiving intervention are periodically reassessed in order to determine progress.

Attention Testing & Titration Monitoring

We use gold standard tests to measure attention and impulse control. For individuals using medication, we offer titration monitoring. This involves periodic assessment and performance comparisons to help determine whether medication is improving attentional functioning.

Products

Screening and Evaluation Tools

We offer psychometrically sound reading screening and assessment tools to educators and other service providers.

Books and Curricula

We offer informative children's literature, texts for adults, and science-based literacy curricula.

Interventions

Reading Intervention Program

For individuals with reading difficulties or at-risk of experiencing reading difficulties, we offer science-based reading intervention. Our intervention services typically involve individual training sessions for 30 to 60 minutes weekly or biweekly either in-person or online. Flexible sessions are based on the family's schedule.

Week-Long Intensive Intervention

Our intensive program involves in-person intervention 6 hours per day for five days.

Secret Codes Summer Camp

Summer tutoring is available to any individual. These small group sessions are one hour each day Monday through Thursday during June and July. Secret Codes Camp is offered in person or online.
